

Anne is a CPA and a Licensed Psychologist. She has a BBA in Accounting from the University of Texas at Austin and a Ph.D. in Psychology from Southern Methodist University. After enjoying a business career working in the Audit Department at Ernst & Young and then as Vice President, Investor Relations for an international software company, she decided to follow her passion to help children who were abused and neglected or suffering from the impact of divorce, completed her graduate program, and opened a private practice in Psychology. Anne also cares deeply about animals and supporting organizations that save and protect them. She volunteers at Dallas Animals Services and the SPCA of Texas and serves on the board of The Pegasus Project, Inc., a horse rescue and rehabilitation center in East Texas. In her free time, she enjoys swimming, yoga, meditation, and spending time with her dogs and horses.
