

Steve has over 25 years of experience in areas including management, technology, and business development. He has volunteered with local animal welfare organizations for the last ten years. He enjoys spending time with his wife and their three dogs, cat, and chickens.